NAVIGATOR

Library User's Guide 2021

I want to use a PC to write a report and print it out.

I want to concentrate on my work in the comfort of a private room...

We want a space to hold discussions in a group!

We want to practice presentations as a group.

I don't know how to find materials...

I want to obtain materials which are not available at Shizuoka University.

Is there a place to display my research and work?

The Library is here for you.

Do you use it only as a “place to borrow a book”? What a waste! Learn about our many services and choose how to use them to suit your needs.

The Library will support your learning and research activities.

📖 Use the OPAC (Online Catalog)

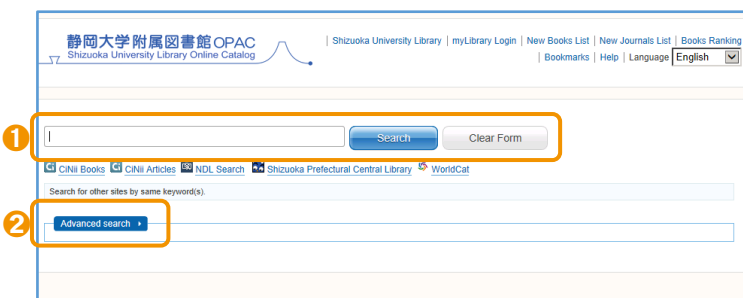

You can search for materials held in Shizuoka University Library on the OPAC. The OPAC is an online tool for searching materials available in the Library anytime, anywhere on the internet. You can search for books (→p. 11), journals (→p. 13) and electronic journals/books (→p. 14-15) on it.

Shizuoka University Library Website <https://www.lib.shizuoka.ac.jp/> -Quick Search-

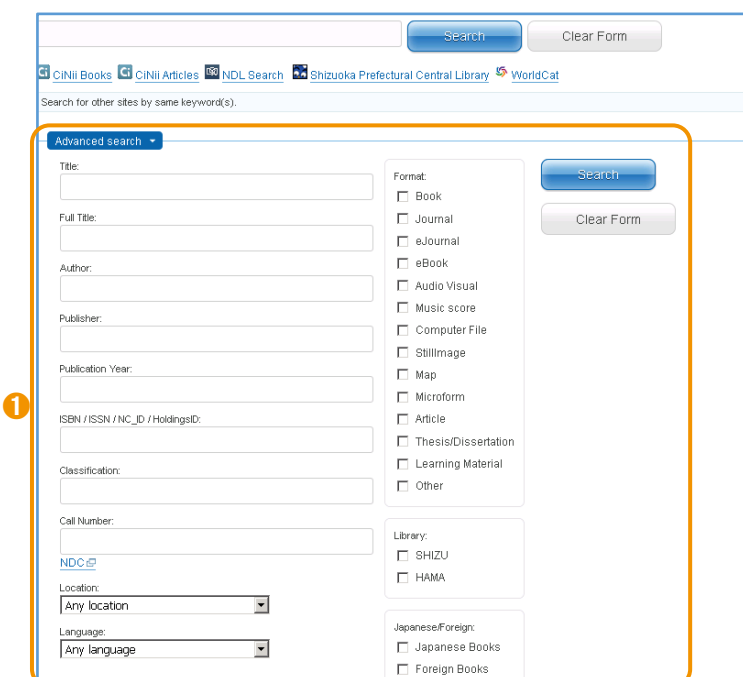

- 1 Please enter keywords in the search box in the middle of the web page.
- 2 Click 'Search', then use the pull-down menu to choose the 'OPAC (Online Catalog)'. You can go to the 'Shizuoka University Library OPAC Basic Search' page.

Shizuoka University Library OPAC (Basic Search) -Free Keywords-

- 1 Enter free keywords related to the material you are looking for.
- 2 After clicking 'Advanced search', desired search categories can be specified.

Shizuoka University Library OPAC (Advanced Search) -Specified Keywords-

- 1 It is possible to search by Title (a material's title), Author/Contributor, Publisher or Publication Year. If there are too many hits from Basic Search, please try Advanced Search.

WHAT YOU CAN/ CANNOT DO on the OPAC

You can search for books, journals, and electronic journals/books available in Shizuoka University Library on the OPAC. However, you cannot search for contents of books and individual articles in journals. In this case, you need to use other databases (→p. 12) before searching on the OPAC.

Search for Books

Let's search for 'A book about organic chemistry written by John McMurry' on the OPAC. Please enter keywords 'study guide' 'organic chemistry' and 'John McMurry'.

Enter keywords and click on 'Search' button → Results

- 1 You can select results by Format, Library, Location, Publication Year, Author, Subject and Language.
- 2 You can re-search using other keywords and change how results are sorted.
- 3 The number of hits is displayed. If you get too many hits, it is better to add some keywords or use more technical words. If you get few or no hits, it is better to reduce keywords or use more simple words.
- 4 Title : Study guide and student solutions manual: organic chemistry
Author : John McMurry
Publisher : Tokyo Kagaku-Dojin
Click on the title of the book and confirm detailed information.

The title of the book → Item Record

- 1 The book information is displayed. Clicking 'Details' will display more detailed information about the book.

- 2 Status: You can see if it is available.

Loanable	You can borrow it.
Checked out	You can borrow it after it is returned.
For reference only	You can use it in the library but cannot borrow it.
Research room	The material is in the research room. (→p. 22)

Volume: The volume number is displayed.
Location: It is the shelving location of the book.
If you click on the location, the map will be displayed. (→p. 6-9)
Item ID: It is the individual No. of a book.
Call Number: Books are classified in order of a Call No. (→p. 23)

- 3 You can place a hold on a title that is checked out or place a request on an item that is not available at your library. Please click the 'Reserve' button and login to 'myLibrary'. (→p. 17) You can borrow the materials at the Counter after they become available.

First, you need to search for articles in journals on the database. ‘CiNii Articles’ is a service that provides information on scholastic articles, with an emphasis on Japanese papers. For example, we are searching for an article about ‘Stabilization and enhancement of traffic flow’.

CiNii Articles <https://ci.nii.ac.jp/> Search for Japanese articles

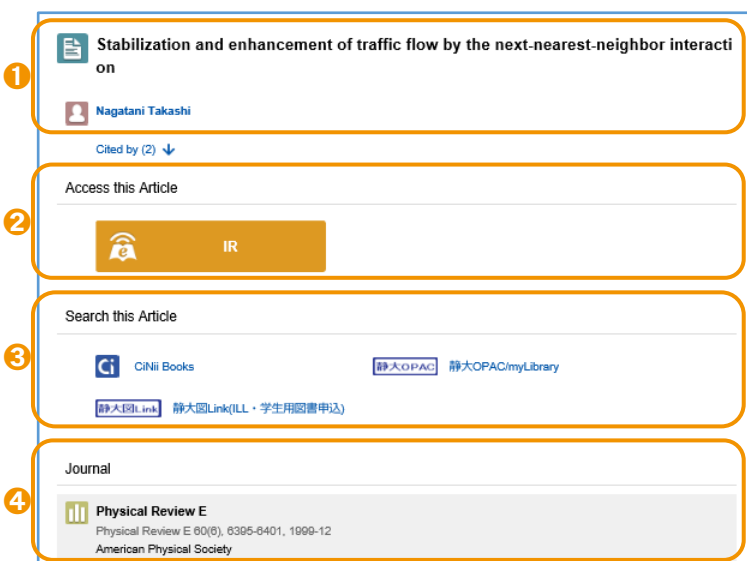

- ❶ CiNii is a database service which can be used to search for academic information of Articles, Books, Journals & Dissertations. Please make sure to select ‘CiNii Articles’.
- ❷ Please enter keywords in the ‘Freeword’ box.
- ❸ When you wish to specify the search target (an orange button on Detailed Screen) for full text documents in the CiNii Articles database, please click ‘Include Full-text’. After clicking ‘Advanced Search’, desired searched categories can be specified.

Search Results Screen and Details Screen

- ❶ Click on the title, then detailed information of the article will be displayed.

- ❶ The article title and author.
- ❷ If an orange button is displayed, you can read the article text on the web. Please click on it and check the text.
- ❸ You can search for the journal which the article was published in. Some Links for other services are displayed. Please click on the ‘静大 OPAC’ button when you want to know whether it is available at Shizuoka University.
- ❹ This is very important information about the journal which the article was published in when you search for the article.

Search for Journals

As mentioned on the previous page, if you find an article and you need to know whether or not the journal is available at Shizuoka University. Please use Shizuoka University Library OPAC to search for it.

Search for Journals on Shizuoka University Library OPAC

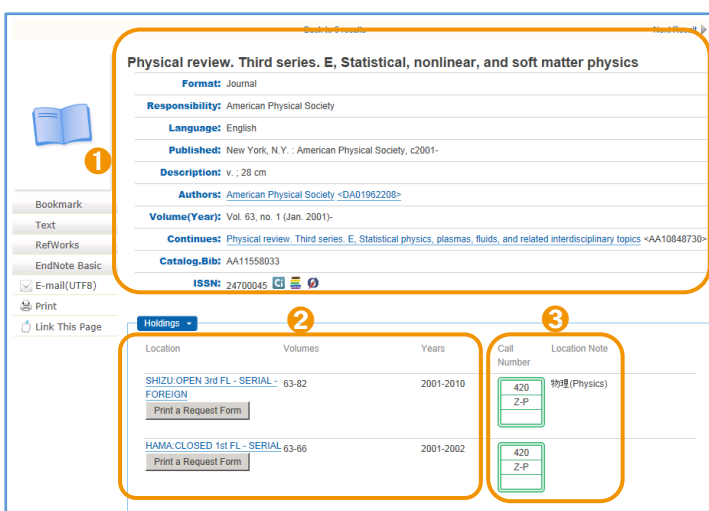

- 1 Click on the '静大 OPAC' button in CiNii, and go to the search result screen directly.
- 2 Enter the title of the journal in the 'Free Keywords' box on the OPAC. Please make sure not to enter the title of the article, author, volume, pages or year.

- 1 When you get too many hits, please click 'Journal'. E-Journals might be hit. (→p. 14-15)
- 2 Click on the title of the journal to view detailed information about it.

Click on the title of the journal → Item Record

- 1 The journal information is displayed.
- 2 You need to see 'Volumes' to confirm whether the volume is available or not.
- 3 Journals are classified in alphabetical order by title. (→p. 23) It is labeled 'Z-' in the second row of the Call Number Label.

If journals are not available...

If the journals you want are not available at Shizuoka University Library or on E-journal, you can obtain photocopies from other campuses or other university libraries. Please apply for these through myLibrary. (→p. 18)

Use Electronic Resources

Not only printed books and articles but also various information on the internet may be useful for study and research. Shizuoka University Library subscribes to Electronic Journal/Book titles and Databases, and provides a Institutional Repository. You will find that they are convenient to use.

Electronic Journals/Books

A journal on the web is called an Electronic Journal. A book on the Web is called an Electronic Book. Electronic Journals/Books can be charged or free. You can search for them on the OPAC.

PHYSICAL REVIEW E VOLUME 60, NUMBER 6 DECEMBER 1999

Stabilization and enhancement of traffic flow by the next-nearest-neighbor interaction

Takashi Nagatani
Division of Thermal Science, Department of Mechanical Engineering, Shizuoka University, Hamamatsu 432-8561, Japan
(Received 13 July 1999)

The car-following model of traffic is extended to take into account the car interaction before the next car ahead (the next-nearest-neighbor interaction). The traffic behavior of the extended car-following model is investigated numerically and analytically. It is shown that the next-nearest-neighbor interaction stabilizes the traffic flow. The jamming transition between the freely moving and jammed phases occurs at a higher density than the threshold of the original car-following model. By increasing the maximal velocity, the traffic current is enhanced without jam by the stabilization effect. The jamming transition is analyzed with the use of the linear stability and nonlinear perturbation methods. The traffic jam is described by the kink solution of the modified Korteweg-de Vries equation. The theoretical coexisting curve is in good agreement with the simu-

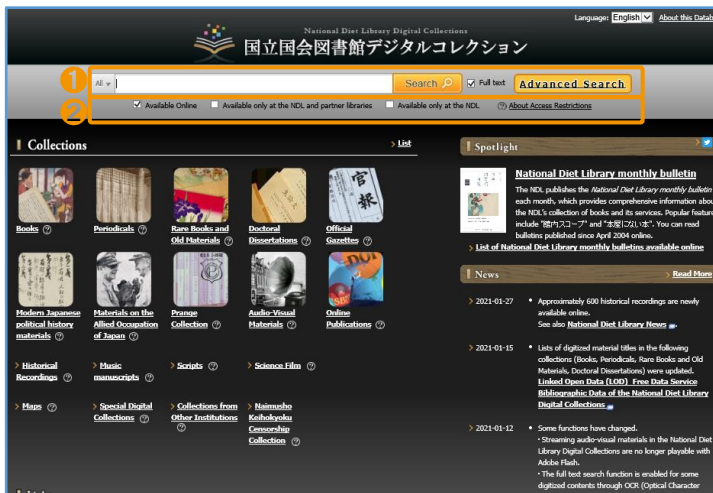

You can read PDF files anytime by downloading and saving them in your personal computer, but please take note of the following:

- For Personal Use Only.
- Do Not Mass-Download. (Systematic downloading is strictly prohibited.)
- Do Not Redistribute.

Failure to take note and observe such terms and conditions of use puts the individual user at risk and potentially could result in termination of service to the entire campus.

National Diet Library Digital Collections <https://dl.ndl.go.jp/>

The NDL Digital Collections website enables users to search and view a variety of materials such as books, journals, rare books, old materials and doctoral dissertations collected and stored by the National Diet Library of Japan. Books contain materials acquired by the NDL up to 1968. Journals contain those published more than 5 years ago. Doctoral Dissertations contain those between FY1991 and FY2000, and in or after April 2013.

- 1 The title of materials, the table of contents and the name of authors can be used as keywords to search materials. Articles which are not available in CiNii Articles (→p. 12) can be found in the NDL Digital collections.
- 2 You can search materials by 3 access restrictions. 'Available Online' and 'Available only at the NDL and partner libraries' are available at Shizuoka University Library.

Available Online Online Available
Available only at the NDL and partner libraries Available at the counter of Shizuoka University Library.
Available only at the NDL Available only within the facilities of the NDL.

You can search for materials which are 'Available Online' or 'Available only at the NDL and partner libraries' as Electronic Journals/Books on the OPAC. Please ask at the Counter (opens; weekdays 9:00-12:30, 13:30-17:00) if you wish to view materials which are 'Available only at the NDL and partner libraries'. You can apply for photocopy service within the scope permitted by the Japanese Copyright Act.

Institutional Repository <https://shizuoka.repo.nii.ac.jp/>

Institutional Repository is an electronic archive system installed for research institutions, such as universities, to collect, accumulate, and store their intellectual products in an electronic form and disclose them for free. Shizuoka University provides 'SURE: Shizuoka University REpository'. The OPAC allows you to search for articles on SURE by using the title or author name.

- 1 You can read the PDF file of various academic outputs produced through education and research activities in Shizuoka University such as journal articles and dissertations. It is possible to search full text in the SURE search box.

To search for free articles on the web

Some articles can be read for free on the web even if you cannot search for Electronic Journals on the OPAC or databases as CiNii Articles. Please try searching the title of the article on a search engine, such as Google or Google Scholar, then you may find it in the Institutional Repository at high rank in a retrieval result.

Databases

Databases are a useful tool for searching materials and articles. You can read the full text of some articles on databases like Electronic Journals/Books. The following databases that Shizuoka University Library is subscribed to are used extensively in all fields.

- 1 Besides the following lists, you can use some databases in each field. Please click 'Search' on the Shizuoka University Library Web site , then use the pull-down menu to choose the 'Database List' page to see the list .

Reference

- JapanKnowledge Lib You can search for encyclopedias, dictionaries, reference compilations, and periodical resources at once, and read the text.

Articles (International)

- Web of Science Articles(International) Science Human&Social Sciences. Citations to scholarly journal articles in sciences, social sciences, arts and humanities (1988 - present). Can be used to demonstrate the impact of particular articles and authors.

Newspapers

- Kikuzo II Visual The Asahi Shimbun (1879- present) , Weekly Asahi, AERA et al.
- Shizuoka Shimbun Database plus Nikkei Telecom The Shizuoka Shimbun (1988-present) , The Nihon Keizai Shimbun, and other newspapers published by Nikkei.

Some databases limit the number of concurrent users. Please logout after you have finished your work.

Use Electronic Journals/Books and Databases from outside of a campus

Electronic Resources that Shizuoka University Library is subscribed to can be accessed from any PC connected to the network in a campus. However, you can use it with your own SHIZUDAI ID and password when you are off campus.

- 1 There is a different way to login to each database. Please click 'Search' on the Shizuoka University Library web site, then use the pull-down menu to choose the 'How to Use E-resources from Outside of a Campus' page. Only the databases in the above list are available off campus.

You can login to 'myLibrary' through your PC or mobile to check the books you are currently borrowing and their return dates, and reserve books.

Login, User Information

The process is shown in three steps:

- Step 1: Access the library website and click the 'myLibrary Login' button in the top right corner.
- Step 2: On the 'myLibrary LOGIN' page, click the 'LOGIN' button under 'Login with your SHIZUDAI ID'.
- Step 3: After logging in, click 'User information' in the left-hand 'User menu'.
